

#MeToo and Epistemic Injustice

Saturday, October 6th, 2018

Skylight Room (9100) CUNY Graduate Center 365 Fifth Avenue

Graduate Assistant Phone Numbers: Michael Greer – 504-722-3384 & Teófilo Reis– 646-925-9154

Panel 4:	Hashtag Activism
Time:	10.00 – 12.00
Moderator:	Charles W. Mills
Panelists and titles:	Karyn Freedman	“Credibility, Risk, and the Epistemic Significance of #MeToo”
	Alyson Cole	“The Virtual is Political”
	Shatema Threadcraft	“The Mundane in a Spectacular Era: #MeToo and #Blacklivesmatter”

Lunch on your own from 12:00-2.00. List of lunch places attached and will be available on the day.

Panel 5:	Hearing
Time:	2.00 – 4.00
Moderator:	Linda Martín Alcoff
Panelists and titles:	Miranda Fricker	“Knowing, Not-knowing, and Half-knowing”
	Kate Manne	More than Fair: How Excessive Sympathy for Him (‘Himpathy’) Obscures and Causes Misogyny”
	Alison M. Jaggar	“Bad Weather and Hostile Climates: Why Do Sex and Gender Harassment Persist in Academic Philosophy?”

Panel 6:	The Role of the Law
Time:	4.15 – 6.15
Moderator:	Alyson Cole
Panelists and Titles:	Suzanne Goldberg	“How Do We Think about the Relationship between #MeToo and the Law?”
	Susan Brison	“Hermeneutical Injustice and Bearing Witness to Rape as Gender-Based Violence”
	Rupal Oza	“Consent, Credibility, and Coercion in Rural Haryana”